Concert Band: “Sounds in Blue”

The 37-piece concert band is the largest and most versatile unit of the Air National Guard Band of the Northeast, with a varied repertoire that ranges from classical overtures through Sousa marches to Broadway show tunes, popular music, movie themes and patriotic favorites.

The concert band has performed at various locations throughout the eastern United States, including Boston, Massachusetts; Louisville, Kentucky; and Chautauqua, New York. With the Northeastern United States as its primary touring area, the concert band frequently performs for packed houses and outdoor amphitheaters in Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Vermont, Maine, Rhode Island, Connecticut, and eastern New York State.

The concert band has also hit the airwaves. They have been featured on local and national television and AM and FM stations throughout the United States. In 2006, they recorded a radio show at WAMC radio in NY for rebroadcast through NPR stations.

The members of the band are professional Air Guard musicians working in support of Air Force and Air National Guard recruiting and community relations objectives.
